ELTConcourse.com

ELTConcourse.com is a free, web-based resource for English Language learners, teachers and trainers.

All materials on the site are covered by an open-use Creative Commons Licence, which means you are free to use them under simple conditions.

The site has no commercial function and does not feature advertisements or promotional materials.

No personal data about visitors is collected.

The site contains

- Resources for initial and in-service training for self-study or incorporation into a training programme
- A section devoted to helping people pass Delta with a free Module One training course
- A section devoted to helping people pass CELTA
- A free TKT course for Modules 1, 2 and 3
- A teacher development section for personal professional development
- Resources for learners of English for self-study or incorporation into a teaching programme
- Teaching materials
- Articles of interest to people in the profession
- A place for people to ask questions
- Advice concerning how to contribute to the site

Use | Exploit | Download | Improve | Contribute

ELTConcourse.com